

Civic Association Directors to Meet

The regular monthly meeting of directors of the Civic Association will be held on Thursday evening, February 19, 1920. Notices will be sent to officers and directors, giving the place and the hour. Among the subjects to be discussed at this meeting are:

1. Free delivery of mail for Narberth.
2. An invitation to become a part of the proposed Suburban Association of the Main Line, with the object of co-operating with other associations in the locality for the purpose of securing uniform road signs, uniform building and zoning restrictions and other important improvements which would be of benefit to the entire suburban section.
3. Our annual spring flower show.
4. A fall flower show or dahlia show.
5. Nomination of officers for election at the annual meeting in March.
6. A talk on the Lower Merion Building Code, by Mr. Victor D. Abel.
7. National advertising for Narberth.

Main Line Branch of County Medical Association Makes Encouraging Statement

In the Ardmore "Chronicle" of January 31st an interesting article signed by A. Lovett Dewees, M. D., President of Board of Health of Haverford Township, and B. K. Wilbur, M. D., President of Board of Health of Lower Merion Township, reads as follows:

"Physicians along the Main Line are almost a unit in their opinion that there will be no return of influenza this winter, such as occurred last year. At a special meeting of the Main Line Branch of the County Medical Association the matter was discussed and this conclusion reached. This opinion is endorsed by the local Boards of Health. While there are quite a number of cases of grippe along the Main Line, there are very few cases of pneumonia or influenza of the type which occurred last winter. Reliable information from Chicago indicates that reports of conditions there are greatly exaggerated, and that there is no return of influenza of a severe or fatal type. The same is true of Philadelphia, where by far the largest number of cases is in the Navy Yard, and, therefore, subject to most careful quarantine.

"It is evident that while all should be careful to avoid exposure to infection and should maintain their health to the highest degree possible, there is no cause for alarm or panic. We have had many epidemics of grippe in past years and thought nothing of them.

"The Main Line Branch of the Red Cross has had a committee organized for months past to handle any emergency that might arise. Their splendid record in the past should assure everyone that they will swiftly and efficiently meet any need. The Home Service Section, No. 845 Lancaster avenue, Bryn Mawr, stands ready to give advice and help at any time."

School Notes

"Without halting, without rest, Lifting better up to best."

Pride, satisfaction, pleasure and inspiration were some of the feelings that came to those who were fortunate enough to attend the meeting of the Montgomery High School Teachers' Association, which was held in our School Building last Saturday, January 31st.

Those who had quietly spent hours in preparation for the gathering were well repaid by the unusual response on the part of the schools all over the county, and the many who came were equally satisfied with the abundance of material gained, both for our bodily and spiritual wants.

It is both comforting and inspiring to be one of a group—School Directors and Teachers—that cares enough about the welfare of our boys and girls to take time to confer and consider and finally learn from men of wider experience, so ably fitted to be guides. Such men were our speakers of Saturday. Besides the round table discussions, so ably presided over by Principal Pennypacker, we enjoyed two speakers of the day: Mr. Montfort Melchior, of Girard College, and Mr. Andrew Thomas Smith, of West Chester Normal. Mr. Melchior talked to us upon the value of the study of history as a force in character building and of the just emphasis upon the study of social sciences in our high schools. Mr. Smith's subject was, "Disciplining for Moral Character."

Both of the speakers had a very happy way of showering us with a wealth of material, drawn mostly from their own full and varied experience, and at the same time so inspiring their audience as to make us realize that we are co-workers in the greatest work in the world—the training of our boys and girls to be finer men and women, intelligent, responsible citizens of our land.

A very essential factor in the success of the day was the "best lunch ever tasted," prepared and served by our Domestic Science Department. Those who know Miss Fryer were more pleased than surprised at the complete success of it all, from the attractively decorated tables to the many home-made "goodies."

FRESHMEN NOTES.

The Freshmen Boys were very much disappointed to have Upper Darby cancel their game.

The Freshmen had a very enjoyable class meeting on February 6th at the home of Walton Foote.

On Monday morning all the Freshmen Girls turned out to gym. Special attraction.

ATHLETIC NOTES.

The Woodbury Girls defeated Narberth High School Girls on Tuesday afternoon, score 24-21. The line-up is as follows:

Narberth. Positions. Woodbury.
Fowler Forward Cloud
Cooke Forward Woolley
Harsch Center Blensinger
Malby S. C. Mink
F. Mueller Guard Weaver
E. Mueller Guard Lafferty

Field Goals—Fowler, six; Cooke, four; Cloud, three; Woolley, seven.

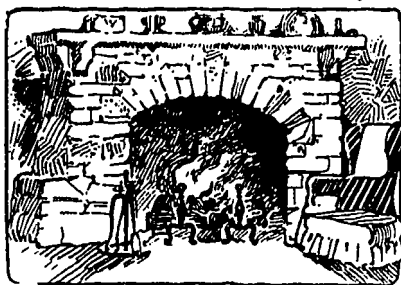

Fouls—Cooke, one out of one; Cloud, two out of ten; Woolley, two out of six. Referee—Prophet, from Temple. Time-keeper—Harris. Scorer—Cooke.

Friday afternoon the girls will play Heddon Heights, and the boys will play Huntington Valley.

Lower Merion is bringing both her teams down Friday night, the 27th. Why not everybody come out at 8 o'clock and see a good game?

One of the pleasant surprises of the week was the organization of a High School Orchestra. It promises to be a splendid success, and adds much to the morning exercises. We believe there is still more talent that would help in this new organization.

President McCarter, Secretary Rose and Principal Melchior are attending the State Directors' Association at Harrisburg during the week.

THE FIRESIDE

The winter weather continues.

It looked like enough ice to last all next summer.

Several coasting accidents were reported, but they were not serious.

Don't forget the turkey supper February 12th at Y. M. C. A. Tickets, 75 cents.

Have you gotten your tickets for the turkey supper for Endowment Fund for Holiday House, February 12th?

Some very prominent citizens gave a fine exhibition of balancing and gymnastics as they made their way over the icy walks and roads during the past two weeks.

Mrs. Gertrude Henderson, of 331 Dudley avenue, has returned from a two months' trip to Cleveland, Ohio; Detroit and Ann Arbor, Michigan.

The ground hog did not see his shadow on Monday, consequently—and of course, it must be true—winter is at an end and the balmy spring will be right in upon us.

A meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, Narberth, Pa., was held in Elm Hall last evening. The attendance was large and a Women's Auxiliary of this Post was talked of being formed.

There will be gay festivity at the fire house roof February 13th, and all Narberth's one-stepping public will be on hand. The Narberth Boys' Club, despite the "jynx," will stage their annual dance and will prove that it's a lucky night for the borough.

Final spring dance, American Legion, Friday evening, April 30.

Washington's Birthday dance, Elm Hall, Saturday evening, February 21, by the American Legion.

On March 17, Wednesday evening, the St. Patrick's Day dance of the American Legion will be held in Elm Hall.

Senator's Novelty Jazz Orchestra has been engaged for the mid-winter dance and those to be held on Washington's Birthday, St. Patrick's Day and April 30, and as long as the American Legion manages the dances we can all look forward to a long evening of enjoyment.

PALACE THEATRE, ARDMORE, PA.

Week beginning February 9, 1920:
Monday—Olive Thomas in "Glorious Lady."

Tuesday—May Allison in "Fair and Warmer."

Wednesday—Wallace Reid in "Hawthorne, U. S. A."

Thursday—Dorothy Dalton in "Market of Souls."

Friday—"When Beards Went Dry."

Saturday—Jack Pickford in "In Wrong." Sennett comedy, "Hide and Seek Detective."

March 12 Selected As Date for Next Tennis Entertainment

Friday evening, March 12, has been definitely selected—signed, sealed, and will be delivered—by the Entertainment Committee of the Narberth Tennis Association, as the date for the next entertainment and dance.

Last week we stated that the date would be either February 27 or March 5, but since then it has been found necessary to select March 12 as the date.

So all members of the Tennis Association and their friends are urged to get out their diaries or engagement books—or in some cases inform their social secretaries—and set aside Friday evening, March 12, as not only the most important date on the calendar, but the one date of all dates with which they must permit nothing to interfere.

As we have intimated in previous issues, this forthcoming entertainment will not only be unlike any affair ever given in Narberth, but in originality will surpass all previous efforts.

Dramatis Directissimo Donnellie expects to begin rehearsals immediately and promises to have his class of educated sea lions in perfect condition and form by March 12.

Later we may be able to secure an interview with the Directissimo, but for the present we must be content with the assurance that he is on the job and that each day the prospect of a bang-up entertainment grows better and better.

Remember, Friday evening, March 12. Keep the date open for the Tennis Association entertainment and dance.

The next meeting of the Community Club, Tuesday afternoon, February 10th, has been turned over entirely to the chairman of music, Mrs. Joseph Barclay, who has arranged a program that some of the music clubs of the city might be proud to offer.

The soloists for the afternoon are Mrs. George Connell, soprano; Miss Fannie Loos, pianist, and Miss Mary Gibbons, violinist.

Mrs. Connell is soloist in a large city church. Miss Loos' finished playing is well known in Narberth, and Miss Gibbons will be remembered for her brilliant work at her first appearance here last fall. Miss Gibbons has had wide experience in Europe and America, and

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of Our Town:

By the death of William D. Godfrey, Narberth suffered the loss of a good citizen, and one who was always willing and anxious to help in all matters of civic interest. The real estate profession has lost a man who had the respect and affection of his competitors and the confidence of his clients. The writer has had business dealings with Mr. Godfrey for a period extending over five years and had many opportunities to observe the fidelity with which he served his clients and the "square deal" he gave to everyone.

R. J. N.

To the Editor of Our Town:

Within the next week or ten days I expect to move into my new home in Narbrook Park. Naturally, I was decidedly disturbed by the suggestion regarding this section which I read, or possibly misread, into a notice in "Our Town" signed "Taxpayer." I was informed when I considered building that Narbrook was to be taken over by Narberth as soon as twelve homes were completed in it, Narberth then being responsible for roads, street lighting and all the other items of service which Narberthites receive in return for their taxes. So far as I know there is no difference in tax rate for those living in Narbrook from those living in any other section of Narberth.

When considering a location for my home another section of town was suggested with the incentive (?) that my post office would be Merion. My reasons for choosing Narberth as a home were that many of my friends were Narberthites, that there was a real "town spirit" about the whole place, a certain civic "oneness" that appealed to me immensely. Some of my friends already lived in Narbrook Park and in them this spirit was every bit as strong as in anyone else so far as I could see—they were boosters for Narberth merchants and by every act indicated and evidently felt that the "Park" was an part of the Borough.

I would be most sorry to learn that in choosing the Park for my home I had defeated the very purpose which caused my choice—the desire to be a dyed-in-the-wool Narberthite. Since none of my friends can inform me definitely exactly as to the status of the situation is, and since this is a matter affecting quite a group in our community, both those actually living in the Park, and also those who purchased property in the Park, on the promise that later it would be taken over by the Borough, wouldn't it be well for "Our Town" to clarify the situation by a definite statement from the group responsible for the origin of the Park?

While I understand that many of this group are no longer residents of Narberth, some doubtless still are, and those who are not would for old sake's sake help clear up what appears to be an unhappy tangle.

J. B. MACKENZIE.

To the Editor of Our Town:

As a resident of Narberth, living in Narbrook Park, the recent letter by "Taxpayer" appearing in Our Town was naturally of a great deal of interest to me. Being associated with Mr. D. Knickerbocker Boyd, who is the consulting architect appointed by the Narberth Civic Association to review all plans of houses to be erected on any of the lots therein, I have naturally been interested in the Park from its inception.

During the war I had the privilege of being Assistant and then Chief of Design of the Housing Division of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, and was enabled to show the Park to men skilled in knowledge of town and municipal

Editorial

All of those residents of Narberth who have not become members of the Fire Company are urged to fill out the application blank appearing in this week's issue of "Our Town," and send it in accompanied by check for $3.00, covering annual dues.

If your house was on fire and you solicited aid from the local fire company, and had not been a contributor, we imagine that you would readily see your mistake in not having given your support sooner.

Every resident of Narberth should become a member of this worthy organization.

The home service section of the American Red Cross at Bryn Mawr have done wonderfully good work in furnishing nurses in this locality. During the past few weeks, however, there have been so many calls that they have used up their entire list of trained and experienced nurses and are now in real need of persons who have had some little experience in nursing or can be of help in a home where there is sickness.

They have learned of many pathetic stories of families who are helpless through not being able to get aid for small children in cases where the older people of the house are all bedfast.

If there are any readers of "Our Town" who know of any one who can assist in any way, it will be greatly appreciated if they will communicate with Miss Walbaum, at the Milestone, Bryn Mawr; telephone Bryn Mawr 657.

A recent Pennsylvania State law permits townships of the first class, of which Lower Merion is one, to write their own building laws and to prescribe fire limits wherein none but buildings of a fire-resistive character may be erected.

Acting under this authority, the Township Commissioners of Lower Merion accepted the offer of the Main Line Citizens' Association to present a building ordinance. It was written by a committee whose members are Messrs. M. B. Medary, Jr., chairman; John Irwin Bright, Paul A. Davis, 3rd, Horace W. Sellers, Horace W. Castor and John Hilder. Messrs. D. Knickerbocker Boyd and Victor D. Abel were the consultants, and the complete ordinance is now in the hands of the Commissioners.

The law embodies a number of unusual features.

The Building Inspector, who will be appointed by the Commissioners, will be required to keep on file a complete list of laws and requirements affecting building in its various phases. At the present time there are a number of public utilities companies, fire underwriters' associations, etc., whose rulings, if not followed, often cause delay and loss to the builder. The existence of various mandatory State enactments is sometimes unsuspected until at some inconvenient time attention is drawn to them by a State official. All this information will be collected and kept in one place at the disposition of the prospective builder.

The keynote of the law is its method of classifying buildings. In the determination of this question the character of its occupancy, or in plainer terms its use, is regarded as the index, to be modified later by considerations such as height, size or safety to human life. Materials of construction are divided into seven groups, each graded according to its fire resistive qualities. Each classification, of which there are six in number, calls for its appropriate grade of materials. The result is an harmonious design from a structural point of view, because for any given building the requirements for each kind of material or each subdivision of construction are approximately the same.

The method also greatly diminished the necessity for special rulings, that hitherto of building inspectors, architects and contractors.

The door is left open to inventions and discoveries by the proviso that any material passing certain specified tests may be substituted for any material mentioned. The imposition of present practice upon unknown future conditions is often responsible for serious financial loss to the public, and the way to evade the loss is to allow free scope to human ingenuity.

While demanding in general an improvement in structural methods, the part of the law dealing with the large question of materials and their uses is of a flexibility that will bring about the result at the least possible increase of cost.

In legislating for dwellings the suburban character of the territory covered by the law was always kept in mind. It has been frankly stated that the ultimate destiny of the Main Line, at least as far as Bryn Mawr, is an unbroken stretch of brick and concrete buildings dominated here and there by tall apartment houses and factories. An examination of all modern cities will show how easily this may come to pass, but that it is inevitable is quite a different matter. In the opinion of the committee it is neither inevitable or desirable, and, in writing the law, they frankly endeavored to render difficult and even impossible such a lamentable invasion of this beautiful countryside.

Under the proposed measure apartment houses may be built, but only of a better and safer type than at present.

The crowding together of dark and dismal houses of a flimsy construction will no longer be permitted.

All public schools are now erected subject to the requirements of a State law. They are fairly good, but while they could and should be improved in some particulars, they are uniformly safer and more sanitary than the vast majority of private institutions. Private schools, many of which are now veritable fire traps and disease breeders, will in the future have to be at least equal to the State requirements for public schools.

The choice between the present condition of anarchy or a system based on law is now squarely up to the citizens of Lower Merion Township.

The committee on building construction of the National Fire Protective Association, meeting in New York last week, gave this proposed law the sincerest flattery by adopting for their future policy certain of its main provisions.

planning from all parts of the country. Their praise was unstinted and they congratulated Narberth as having the vision to encourage one of the most modern of suburban developments within its limits. It has now grown to be one of the most beautiful spots along the Main Line.

In spite of this, there seems to exist in Narberth a spirit of antagonism to the Park. Those of us who live here cannot understand it.

We are faced with the unfortunate fact that all of our roads are rapidly becoming impassable, as they have not been touched since completion. The central parking space dedicated to the Borough has its grass cut only through the generosity of those whose interest and enthusiasm first brought the development into being, assisted last year by a small portion of the lot holders. The space seems most appreciated by the small boys of baseball age, who insist upon leaving their stone bases, to the detriment of Mr. Yowell's carefully sharpened lawn mowers.

It is probably the confusion existing as to the exact relation of Narbrook Park to Narberth which suggested the question to Mr. Taxpayer. Answering his query, we do pay taxes and to the same rate as the rest of the Borough. It has, however, been suggested that we withhold payment until such time as our roads are put into at least passable condition, and we have street lights, so that those who live in the upper end can find their way home in safety after dark.

But we have no desire to in any way avoid fulfillment of any of our obligations as citizens. We should, however, like to have explained to us our status, and, paying taxes as we do, if we are not entitled to those things which are granted to the other citizens of Narberth in return therefor. In the spring, when there will be about twenty houses completed and occupied, conditions will be serious, indeed, and this unlooked-for opportunity to present our case in public will, I hope, result in a way being found to alleviate conditions.

VICTOR D. ABEL.

ing the status of Narbrook Park. It is unfortunate if residents of Narberth do not understand about the Park, because it is one feature of the Borough which is a decided asset from many points of view to every property owner and resident.

The development known as Narbrook Park transformed a plot of ground that was a detriment to the town into a beauty spot, and without the expenditure of one cent on the part of the Borough. As a matter of fact, there was a group of public-spirited citizens who brought about this development with considerable personal sacrifice on their part.

Every property holder in Narbrook Park pays Borough taxes on the same basis of other property owners in the Borough. In other words, we residents of the Park contribute to all of the expenses of streets, light, police, fire and other public works for the whole of Narberth.

In return for our taxes the Borough collects our ashes, and they do regularly and efficiently; they also collect our garbage, but this service from the standpoint of regularity cannot be commended as can the ash service.

We have no street lights, nor are our roads cared for. The Park space in the past has been kept in order by contributions from property owners in the Park.

Generally speaking, we think the residents of Narberth like the Park; in any event, during the spring and summer months folks seem to promenade along the little brook and many mothers bring their children to rest and play there; the more the folks use the Park the better we residents like it.

The Borough uses the sewer built and paid for by the Park Development Committee of the Civic Association, but there seem to be no disposition on the part of the Borough to consider the Park as part of the town.

The Park has added considerable to the revenue of Narberth, and in the spring at least twenty houses will have been completed. Surely, the occupants of these homes—all of them who will in all probability own their own homes—should have all the advantages of other property holders in the Borough; maintenance of roads and park space and street lights.

If there is any sentiment in the Borough either for or against Narbrook Park, I hope it may be crystallized through "Our Town."

Thank you for giving this question the publicity it deserves.

W. A. FOX.

To the Editor of Our Town:

It's altogether likely that Charley Noel and his hardy band are a bit riled as a result of Observer's suggestion in last week's paper that the Fire Company should henceforth proceed to nocturnal blazes in strictly funeral fashion, that no longer shall the noon of night be filled with pibroch thrills, for it's asleep the man is at the time, you see, as old people should be, and if folks are so willful as to have fires at unseasonably hours it little becomes the fire fighters to make a bad matter worse by hurrying pell mell to it, demanding right of way as they go, and simply because they think that the sooner they get there the smaller the fire shall be. It's bad reasoning, this, as Observer's letter makes very plain, and it's a condition that can quite readily be overcome if the Fire Department is willing to subscribe to this new idea, for the World War has changed things all about, that's sure, and Observer must be given the credit which is due him, because he was the first, the very first, to bring the matter to our attention.

Therefore, it is suggested that at the next meeting of the Fire Company the following plan shall be submitted for all fires occurring after 8.30 P. M., unless Observer's bedtime is before that, in which case the time can be advanced accordingly:

When the fire call comes in on the telephone, it shall be the duty of the man receiving the news to advise the sender that he shall make a record of it and he shall explain that inasmuch as it is the new policy of the Fire Company to prevent loss of sleep, the occupants of the house which is burning shall apply to their neighbors for lodging, and if it is necessary for them to be disturbed when the Company gets there, to ascertain what they would like burned and what they would like saved. Chief Noel will make sure to arouse them, or if they prefer to sleep on, they may leave a full set of directions tied to the nearest fire plug, where there's no possible chance of missing them.

After having made a careful entry of all the facts of the case, the man who receives the message shall put on rubber shoes and call at the residences of the various Company members, informing them that a fire is burning and requesting them to gather with proper decorum at Elm Hall. Once assembled, the Company shall go into executive session and devise a route consisting entirely of smooth and down-grade streets and roads by which the fire may be approached. With the exception of the fire chief and the drivers, the members shall then proceed on foot, provided with flashlights or oil lanterns, depending on the judgment and generosity of the honorable council, to the respective points along the route indicated for them at the executive session. After ample time has elapsed, the equipment may move forward, being strictly governed in its progress by the flash signals which it receives from the members posted along the way, and as each post is reached the machines shall stop very quietly to allow the member to clamber aboard.

This procedure should unquestionably fulfill in every detail the "Save Sleep" program suggested by Observer, and, in fact, is even more modern, because it eliminates the necessity of blowing the whistle, notwithstanding Observer's tolerance for that outlandish custom, but if we are out for reform we must make a clean job of it, we must save sleep for everybody except the firemen, but at the same time we must take heed of the fact that more than half of the accidents and collisions occur between 10 P. M. and 3 A. M., and what finer plan can be suggested to preclude disaster and yet save sleep than the one which is now outlined. It's true its adoption would mark the passing of the elixir of our youth, would deprive us of the wholesome contemplations which used to come to us in old-fashioned times, as we lay in our snug and warm beds at night, of the fine world it was after all, when we heard the passing of fellow men on their way to save life and property, disregarding of their own safety, their own comforts, with no compensation other than that which comes from the satisfaction derived from service well rendered, and while we used to think that the resonant clanging of the bell, strident and clear in the midnight air, served not only to clear the road, but to add zest to the fine conception of duty so valiantly displayed, much as the martial music goads the army on to battle, we now know that such reflections were made of puerile stuff, that this people is wiser in its generation, and that the prime issue, the chief essential is sleep, SLEEP, SLEEP, with no stops until the morning comes.

NO "FLU" HYSTERIA.
 Hysteria, always lurking around the corner of the public mind, will find little place upon the reports of a return of "flu" in this section of the country.
 Chicago has been the principal sufferer, but while there has indeed been something like a small epidemic of the winter scourge there, there is not the slightest indication that any such plague as that of last winter is about to be loosed on the country at large. Forewarned by past dreadful experiences, municipalities are very sensibly taking precautions against the "flu."
 This does not mean that every local citizen ought to rush to the drug store for a cure-all or buy a large quantity of gauze face-masks. It only means that the ordinary safeguarding measures of winter life on the Atlantic seaboard should be followed with an increased precaution. Mental repose should be sought; rational daily habits made the rule, not the exception; nourishment should be good, and nervous overwork banished. Above all, the demon of close rooms ought to be combatted. Pneumonia and like diseases (of which influenza is a first cousin) are, in the view of modern medical science, primarily bad-air ailments. Steady and sensible ventilation will help mightily.
 The report of the findings of the Boards of Health of both Lower Merion and Haverford Townships, published on the first page of this issue, is most reassuring.
 They tell us that such cases as exist here now are mild ones and that a widespread onslaught of the malady is unlikely. In conclusion, their reports give a well-merited testimonial to the Main Line Branch of the Red Cross for its splendid work done last year, and announces that this same organization has had a committee fully organized to handle any emergency that might arise.

AMERICAN LEGION BEHIND THE BOY SCOUTS' GROWTH.
 Local Posts Are Urged to Furnish Scoutmasters for the Thousands of Waiting Young Patriots—Approval of Citizenship Training Program is One of Only Two Resolutions on Organizations Passed.

The American Legion has put itself solidly behind the Boy Scouts of America by a resolution of approval.
 All of its local posts have been requested to furnish the men needed to lead the troops of Scouts.
 Out of more than 250 resolutions offered at the first national convention in Minneapolis in approval of various organizations and programs, only two were passed. These were for the Carry-On Association and the Boy Scouts of America.
 Scouts Served as Guides.
 There were 480 Boy Scouts on duty, meeting all trains and acting as ushers, messengers, guides, at information bureaus, etc.
 The resolution of endorsement of the Boy Scout Movement as passed by the national convention of the American Legion is as follows:
 "Resolved, That the American Legion heartily commends the principles and achievements of the Boy Scouts of America and recommends that each post assist the Boy Scout troops in its community in whatever manner practicable."
 Mr. Franklin D'Olier, the newly elected National Commander of the American Legion, has been authorized to appoint a committee of five to plan how the American Legion may best function in relation to public welfare. The Boy Scouts come under that classification.
 "Country's Safety Bound Up with Its Boys."
 In addition, Mr. Henry D. Lindsley, presiding officer of the convention, has sent the following letter:
 Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 13, 1919.
 Mr. Ludvig S. Dale, Scout Executive, Minneapolis Council,
 Boy Scouts of America.

Dear Sir:
 In its first National Convention at Minneapolis I want you to know that the American Legion by unanimous resolution endorsed the Boy Scouts of America. In suggesting this resolution to the convention I made this statement:
 "We have just heard the patriotic and inspiring address from the Commanders-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and of the United Confederate Veterans. These old heroes represent the mighty armies of the North and of the South, now dwindled to a few men approaching the last end. We of the American Legion are today the strong, virile force of the World War; and we appreciate beyond measure that the veterans of the Civil War on both sides regard us as their sons and believe that we have in the war just closed lived up to the standard which they set.
 "But the safety of our country must continue after we, in our turn, approach the grave. This safety is bound up in the boys of this land, and the Boy Scouts of America are the great unifying and directing force toward which we look to teach the principles of patriotic and unselfish service which are taught in the constitution of the American Legion and which directed the men of America who fought and helped to win the Great War. We therefore most heartily endorse the Boy Scouts of America and we are glad to co-operate with them in their splendid organization, and we know that they will "Be Prepared" to serve their God, their fellows and their country."

Very sincerely,
 HENRY D. LINDSLEY,
 Past National Commander, American Legion, and Chairman National Convention American Legion.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow townsman, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
 As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.
